IN CASE YOU MISSED IT

UPEACE WELCOMED ITS COLLEAGUES FROM ATENEO DE MANILA UNIVERSITY FOR A "PEACE EXCHANGE"

Last week, we gladly hosted our colleagues from Ateneo de Manila University (AdMU), our partners in one of our most successful dual degree programmes, the Asia Peacebuilders Scholarship Programme, funded by the Nippon Foundation.

Professors from UPEACE and AdMU participated in our Peace Exchange, which included several dialogues on peace and transdisciplinary social development, as well as the development of peace studies knowledge from the Asian context. AdMU professors also met with UPEACE students for a more informal dialogue.

If you missed it, you can watch the recording here

RESIDENT PROFESSOR STEPHANIE KNOX TAKES PEACE EDUCATION TO COLOMBIA

UPEACE Resident Professor Stephanie Knox (Peace Education) was in Colombia last week with students from the Pontificia Universidad Javeriana, teaching a course on peace education and promoting a culture of harmony, as part of our agreement with that Colombian educational institution.

CANADIAN UPEACER AND RECENT GRADUATE KYLE RICHARDSON TELLS US ABOUT HIS EXPERIENCE AT UPEACE

Kyle Richardson (Canada, M.A. in Gender and Peacebuilding), a recent UPEACE grad, had this to say about choosing why he chose UPEACE and this program specifically.

Find out what he had to say here
